

RAVENWORD BOOKS — MEDIA FACT SHEET

"History is usually written by the famous. We are rewriting it together."

WHAT IT IS

Ravenword Books is a full-stack storytelling and publishing platform that lets ordinary people write, publish and sell their autobiographies using AI agents. Guided by a conversational Story Agent, authors turn a lifetime of memories into a real, finished book — with the option to share it in a community library and earn from every reader.

KEY FACTS

|                   |                                                                     |
|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Founder           | Deborah Spinocchia                                                  |
| Entity            | Ravenword Books PTY LTD (Australia)                                 |
| Domain            | ravenwordbooks.com                                                  |
| Category          | AI-assisted publishing / creator economy                            |
| Formerly known as | Your Life In Books (renamed September 2026, full legal ASIC rename) |

HOW IT WORKS

- An AI interview agent guides the author through their life story, chapter by chapter
- A drafting agent writes the full manuscript — length set by the story, no minimum or maximum word count
- A QC agent reviews for ethics and defamation risk before anything is published
- Authors choose a cover, and can keep their book private or share it in the community library

PRICING

|                            |                                               |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| Digital First              | $79 — eBook, AI cover, library publication   |
| Human Touch                | $369 — adds human writer oversight           |
| Classic Soft Print         | $239 — Digital First + 20 softcover copies   |
| Soft Print + Human Touch   | $469 — combines both                         |
| Community library download | $2 per book, or free for public-domain works |

REVENUE MODEL

Every sale is split 48% to the story's originator, 48% to Ravenword Books, 2% to the founder, and 2% to the human writer where one is engaged. Authors who publish to the community library earn a share of every download, paid out via Stripe Connect.

PRESS CONTACT

hello@ravenwordbooks.com